

Florence 22 May 1868

My dear Sir

I have received at last the parcel of books you sent me.
They have reached me through the agency of Mr. Luciano Gall'acqua of Milan, agent to the Emilianian Inst.
in Italy. It need scarcely say how very much I feel obliged towards you for yr gift, as it is the first to consult for the first time some of yr marks which hitherto I knew only by fame. I only wish I could in return be of some use to you at some future time. For the present I continue in Florence, and at all events a letter would reach me with certainty if addressed here, even if I had left, which I purpose doing as soon as I succeed in getting somewhere in situation, better than the precarious and miserable one in which it has placed the government of this country to retain me.

Believe me always dear Sir

Yours sincerely,

T. Carnell
